Comments: Controlling the impact that these developments not only have on the environment, but for the legacy that Fellow Montanans value should be a major concern for this project now and in the future. I am not opposed to development or improvements but everyone's "within reason" looks different. So what does that mean? How important is it to you to keep a pristine lake and it's surrounding area developed "within reason". Control the impact and don't make it easy for those with deep pocket books to come in and use our state to create even deeper pockets for themselves while compromising not only Holland Lake but the areas surrounding it. Look at how places like Bozeman and Whitefish have changed. Don't slow that to happen in every nook and cranny of MT.
