Comments: Keeping the history and the forest land and lakes is why we love living in Montana. Our state let alone our planet doesn't need another nonsustainable playground for the wealthy. Holland Lake is a beautiful lake with a luxury resort that comes with luxury boats, polluting the waters and the forests surrounding it. The wildlife through the Swan is already facing too much with many more people visiting and homes being built. Montana doesn't have many lakes left that remind those that grew up here of how it was, peaceful and quiet. Please consider the impact on the environment and wildlife.

Once places like this go up, there is no going back to nature. Nature needs us to stand up, for our home and our planet. She is all we have.

In love and health of Mother Earth,

Katrina
