Comments: Please do not do this. By building this you take away what makes this spot beautiful. Is there a way to restore the structures up there to achieve what you are trying to create? Too much is being taken by this type of greed. There are animals and other natural wonders that will be destroyed in this process. Please do not do this. Think outside the box and figure out something different. Once you do this you are turning this area into another spot you will grow tired of and then move on to do it some where else. Unfortunately, we are seeing there is no where else. It sucks. From one Montanan to whoever and wherever you are from please don't do this
