Comments: The scope and impact of a project of this size affects all of Montana. To set a precedent with this type of expansion, will lead to the destruction of the natural environment that makes Montana great. This large scale construction project in a protected area should include a full environmental review. The impact on both the immediate area as well as the wilderness need to be considered.

To desecrate a beautiful, recreationally and environmentally important piece of forest service land is an irresponsible stewardship of public owned land.
