Comments: Holland Lake is a special place for my family and me. The abundance of camping spots and facilities, the hike to the falls, the abundant wildlife and the close proximity to the Bob Marshall make it truly special. Developing it into some massive resort that is catered to wealthy outsiders would be an absolute travesty. It seems we Montanans that were born and raised here have nowhere to escape to anymore as it is. We love Holland Lakes rustic simplicity. You can still feel at peace there. A huge development such as this would not only change the landscape, it would change the very "spiritualistic feeling of bliss" that Holland Lake currently offers.
