Comments: This project could cause massive negative impacts on the land and the community in this area. With the influx of visitors already to the state, encouraging more tourism in spots like this that are habitat hold outs for wildlife is illogical. Local communities in the state are tired and exhausted from being exploited by out of state visitors, stop encouraging more tourism. Locals that have been here for years can hardly make it as it is, allowing big businesses in like this will only increase the already heightened tension between locals and out of state people. Keep Montana rural.
