Comments: This project would bring in more people, more congestion, and force those who live here out. Prices are high enough without adding high priced accommodations to those who wish to visit. I have lived near Mt. Bachelor and Snowbird - and when people in mass begin vacationing to these places, the people who live there are priced out of their homes and the influx of visitors ruins the home atmosphere. It is hard enough now to find places where you can do things without seeing lots of other people.
