Comments: With the rapid expansion of growth in Montana in just the last few years, areas like Whitefish, Bozeman, and the Whole Bitterroot Valley, we need to preserve the areas that are still sleepy, quaint, refuges for the humans. Keep the growth concentrated to the existing urban areas, but preserve the wild spaces for both humans and animals. Our planet needs these wild spaces. Because Holland Lake is owned by the people, it should be preserved as it is because that's what the people love about it.
