Comments: As someone who was born and raised in Montana, I am strongly against this development that is planned for Holland Lake. One of the most special things about Montana is our beautiful mountains, lakes, and forests; these wonder aspects of our State are slowly being diminished because we have allowed people to buy up property, build big developments, and privatize the land. It is obvious that those who are capable of making those purchases do not hold the same values as Montanans. Montana is an outdoorsman heaven, a photographers best subject, a playground for recreational sports, and best of all, a person's refuge from the fast-paced and overcrowding of city life that we see in other states. Sure, this may be an opportunity to bring in money to "help" Montana, however we must think about whose money we are taking, what kind of crowd this could bring in, and how it might push out Montanas financially. I believe that Holland Lake is a great place already and do not think it needs to tear down trees to build some fancy lodge, restaurant, or parking lot to make it special. Please, do right by the Montanas that already live here and keep Holland Lake as is.
