Comments: Although I realize the state of Montana relies heavily on tourism, that does not mean we want our forests, lakes & rivers destroyed just to make a profit and give rich people a play ground to pollute and pretend they are "roughing it". Why can't this corporation just improve upon what is already there, like remodel the buildings, instead of just tearing them down? Their proposal will just make it another crowded resort and defeat the whole purpose of being in the outdoors. It will upset the serenity that most people seek when they go there, not mention the balance of nature. We Montanans want to keep our state the LAST BEST PLACE for a reason.
