Comments: Whose awful idea was it to seek someone to exploit this beautiful real piece of Montana in such a way? This is absolutely horrid and should not be where we steer our beautiful state. I stand against not only this Holland Lake travesty, but doing so to any of our peaceful, quaint, clean, natural lakeshore. Why would you even propose such a thing, sell to someone who would or condone it? I cannot fathom how this could be construed as a good idea. I can't think of any one Montanan who would prefer this commercialized gawdy setup to a peaceful day on the lake. It's literally what we treasure here. It's what we stay here for. In a day and time where I can find awful resorts all over but peaceful serenity is waning, why would we ever think of flushing one of ours down a dirty toilet? To get tourists stomping about on what we destroyed? Another hard no. Hard no all the way around.
