Comments: I am a local Montanan born and raised here that is appalled by the constant destruction of my home state. The natural beauty of Montana is being exploited and destroyed by developers who are greedy for money. Montana has never been about money but because of that we are being overrun and chased out of our beloved state . Local Montanans want the last of a great frontier preserved for future generations, for what it is naturally and for our wildlife. You see the mass slaughtering of the wildlife that is currently happening because of the incessant need for men's greed ,power and money. This is a history no one is proud of that caused the demise of indigenous tribes living here, the bison, the grizzlies and exterminated the native wolf....who can be proud of that ? But the sad part is no one seems to learn from unethical past events. I am pleading to your moral compass we don't need more concrete buildings here and if people want over development move to the other 49 states it was allowed to happen and because it destroyed everything they are bringing it here to destroy what we hold so priceless....our unraped and pillaged environment....please do not allow this gross project to take place
