

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 9/15/2022 5:18:15 PM

First name: Josh

Last name: Oliver

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The last thing that northwest montana needs is another rich group of people cluttering and area that is so beautiful and remote. Putting a new "resort town" at Holland lake means that the explosion of tourism and inflation in the area only continues longer and larger. Places like Seeley and swan lake don't need more people. The people live down there to be away from places like whitefish and Missoula. Not so they can make a buck on the land that they are on and love.

It's not worth it.

Please deny the development