Comments: By continuing to allow money hungry moguls to develop our natural lands we lose them forever. Whether it's us natives trying to enjoy where we come from or out of stators that drive our tourism income, taking spaces away like Holland lake will remove the opportunity for us to utilize this space for good. You can say that it's just one place in Montana is big, but look at Flathead lake, knocks and reservoir, Sandpoint, and anywhere like it. You have the ability to preserve this for Montana's. Please think of us in your decision making.
