Comments: I am not in favor of anything that will price middle to low income residents out of the housing and land market. As the son of a Seeley Lake resident I have have been coming to Seeley Lake off and on for about 30 years. I like the quiet serene beauty of this area. I like the small town feel and knowing the local residents and mangers of the local establishments. I have seen what PAWS UP has done to the local motels in Seeley Lake. I am not pleased with that, so building a bigger resort at the Holland Lake site for me is just a repeat of what PAWS UP did. This movement of out of state individuals with their money is just in my opinion re creating the mess of California and other states. If individuals are looking to invest in our local areas / economies could say that they would not drive up land prices, prices of goods and services while only bringing in a few if any minimum wage jobs then I would be more open to them coming in. However what I am seeing is big money damaging MT's economy and pushing middle class to the poor class out while destroying the beauty of our quiet serene MT residence.
