Comments: I have been going to Holland Lake since 1980s. My best friend and her family have had a cabin there for generations. I always thought the rule was that there were no buildings to be seen from the lake. It is such a pristine quiet beautiful Montana gem and should not be destroyed by corporate out of state lush gross greed. Just like Quinn's Hot Springs. It used to be so cute and quaint and cozy and now it is just a lush expensive grotesque facility that I will not support any longer in my home state. Please do not let this happen to our state and the Holland Lake recreational area that belongs to the local Montanans. This would be a tragedy.
