Comments: The lodge and surrounding area is historic and should be preserved. Upkeep and maintenance should still happen, but what makes the lodge and nearby area special is how rustic and natural it still is. It's more important than ever to hang on to the simplicity and beauty of this area as places like this are getting harder and harder to come by. In fact most people visit this location to get away from the rat race, and the opposite will happen with modernization and clutter that will happen with this "expansion". This area still feels pristine with all the trees and quiet, but with an influx of buildings, parking space, and people I feel Holland Lake would lose its magic. Please leave the "improvement and expansion" to the urban areas and let's keep the clean air, rustic getaways, and forests where we still have them.
