Comments: I was born and raised in Kalispell. I live here still with my husband and kids. I understand why people are moving here in high numbers. It is gorgeous, friendly and safe. And small. People love that the population is small. But they don't think their moving here affected that. And it's fine, I want to live here too. BUT if POWDR is allowed to open this huge resort on Holland Lake then there will be even MORE people vacationing here and subsequently moving here. Not only that Holland Lake is a quaint beautiful lake that mostly locals visit. It will be one less place where we can go to get that serene Montana feel. Don't sacrifice the way Montana is for money. Once we leave our small town feel we can never go back. Please don't let them build a huge resort that will destroy the loveliness that has been Holland Lake, exploit Montana for their own gains and send that money out of state. Then where is the benefit to Montana?
