Comments: I have been to Holland Lake with our family many times over the years. It's truly wonderful.

We love recreating in National Forests and National Parks because they are welcoming to all US citizens, no matter race, color, political alliance or zip code. The comments I read sadden me. This isn't a Condon municipal forest, county forest or state forest.... it's a National Forest. Doesn't every citizen of the united states own an equal part of National Forest lands?

This looks like a great project that accommodates up to 150 visitors at a time. Hardly a mega project. We're very much looking forward to visiting when it opens!
