Comments: I would oppose this plan in it's current form. Not only because it rewards out of state investors over access to public lands, but also because of the environmental impact on the local wildlife. It seems to be a secretive plan without much transparency on the operations or building project itself. What guarantees do we have that the jobs created would go to qualified residents and not be transferred from out of state? I do not wish to stifle local economies or stop growth, but being cautious about out of state investment that has little to no protective provisions for our public land seems to be the logical approach. Thank you for your time.
