Comments: I am disturbed to learn of more proposed development in this scenic part of our state, especially by out of state interests. Holland Lake is a gem in the Treasure State. This lake has a special history of providing amenities for Montana locals. It should be kept from being exploited from an out of state wealthy corporation. If this development is allowed to go through, the USFS will be going against its own core values defined on the USFS website, "We want people to see our agency core values of service, conservation, interdependence, diversity and safety come through in how we work with each other and our communities, tribes and partners." Please consider how much Montanans value conservation. Once this is developed, there is no turning back...
