Comments: I grew up in Montana and although I don't live there anymore my family still lives there and it is unacceptable to see large corporations being allowed to destroy the beautiful spaces that my family and I, and so many other families have enjoyed. I want my nieces to be able to visit the same places that I did when I was there age and have the same experiences. Nobody from Montana wants these big corporations here to build more attractions and accommodations for tourists and the rich. We don't want them and we don't need them. Keep Montana beautiful.
