Comments: My mom is from Montana so we used to travel from Minnesota to Montana in the summer for huge family gatherings. One time we all met at Holland Lake Lodge. Several of us camped in tents while others were in cabins and some in the lodge. There is NOTHING like this lodge as it currently stands. I would be devastated if it changed! People don't go to Montana for great WiFi and modern structures. People go to escape the hustle and bustle of every day life. To "disappear" if you will.

My cousins and I just recently spoke about doing a cousin get together back at Holland lake but if this purposes project gets approved, we will look elsewhere.
