Comments: I am a former resident of Montana and still have many ties to the Flathead Valley. I was very sad to see what is happening to Montana especially when the Forest Service is not informing the residents and taking into consideration what impact this development will do to this pristine part of the state. Big business and greed is destroying many parts of our country and any effort to preserve the wilderness is worth a fight. I have hiked and camped in the Bob Marshall Wilderness, and I am so sad to hear that this type of project could destroy the opportunity for my grandchildren. I realize it takes money to fight and make change, but I hope the decision makers will also have a conscience to realize what they are allowing to happen to one of the most beautiful states in the country.
