Comments: Holland lake is such a magical, remote place in the Swan Valley. I lived in Polson for 2 years while working as a Bigsky Watershed Corps (AmeriCorps) member in 2020 and 2021. I got to help remove and rest Holland lake for aquatic invasive species. There are many places in the Swan Valley that have been capitalized, many lakes completely surrounded by homes. Holland lake is one of the few larger lakes completely open to recreation and not as private. Creating this huge lodge would completely change the wildness of Holland lake. I got to meet so many locals when I was a local myself and it's such a special place to everyone. This land should remain with the forest service and the public
