Comments: Don't turn Montana into California. That is why we leave out state to see nature and the land in it's natural form and beauty. Once you start building and building it's a slippery slope. I'm sore you will not get one comment of someone who wants to see this great spot taken over by a resort. I hope you listen to the community and the people who reside there. Montana is the most beautiful plane I have ever been and would hate to see it ruined by greed.
