Comments: Montana is a beautiful place, partly due to the ability to find solitude and earn your experiences and views by getting off the beaten path. Holland lake and the bob Marshall wilderness complex are no exception. Over the last few years, I've noticed a considerable influx in the seeley swan valley throughout the summers. However, this tourist influx only lasts when the sun is out and temperatures are high. On top of that, the locals are the one that bear the brunt of the inflation, traffic,, and degradation that tourists bring with it. Adding or improving upon a lodge in a remote area will only further this problem and continue taking away from a place of natural beauty and the people that live and work there.
