Comments: If you love Montana, why would you want to carve up it's beauties? Generation after generation managed to conserve this natural wonder. Us redneck, under educated hillbillies managed to leave some to other life forms that need a place to live. Who are these people? Why are you coming? A blank canvas to Picasso garbage all over? If not for any other reason, think of the habitat you are destroying for the wildlife. Think of the boycotts the elite have coming and worse, while you tear it all apart, destroy, and kill, we wish you luck sleeping at night on your pile of money. You will be vanquished. You will do it to yourselves.

Everyone knows these comments lead nowhere and mean nothing and you'll do what you do and there's no stopping you. Not until we get everyone else to wake up. You're going to find shock in the manner of which Montanas are willing to pull together. Good luck
