Comments: Yes, I am an out of stater but I have visited Montana for the last thirty years and have witnessed a steady erosion of the environment. Shopping malls with large box stores, housing developments, multi lane highways. This is what they call progress but why visit a place that more and more reminds one of home? Government agencies are there to defend and preserve and should be free of pressure whether it be money or politics. Do your job and preserve the unique environment of Montana. Elaine Douglass
