Comments: Montana is incredible, the people, the culture and especially the access to serene and undisturbed nature. Let us find a way to enjoy and engage with our beautiful land without participating in its demise. I encourage the Forest Service not to approve this project, at least not as proposed, at this time. If we truly want to preserve what we all find so special about this great state, we must be transparent and spread awareness, converse and share ideas, and strategize on how we can achieve forward progress without destroying exactly what we all love so dearly.
