Comments: Keep Holland Lake public!!! Wild space is crucial for the overall health of community members, not just a few elite people who can afford such luxuries. Most of us choose to live in Montana because we appreciate being able to get outdoors to engage in a diversity of hobbies. By making lands like this private you change the landscape in many ways. Not only do you take away outdoor opportunities from people, you change the economy. The local economy has already been negatively impacted in places around MT because wealth wants to have it for their friends and family. The wild outdoors belongs to us all, not just wealthy individuals or large investors.
