Comments: I am skeptical of the plan to expand a private, commercial operation onto federal, public lands at Holland Lake. Not outright opposed, but skeptical. What I am certain of, is that this project proposal needs to be put through a rigorous NEPA analysis and allow the EA to speak for itself. To issue a categorical exclusion for a project with potential for such large impacts would be extremely irresponsible.

A proper analysis will show whether or not the project is suitable. A responsible developer that plans to bring forward an environmentally compatible project would look forward to proving such.
