Comments: Hi there- been visiting Holland Lake for many years, 15 to be exact. We have wonderful and lasting memories there as our kids have grown up camping there. The rustic nature of the area and no cell service are a draw. The development as I understand it having reviewed the plans sorta make it look like a mini-Paws Up. I can not imagine that any of us locals would be able to afford visiting it. Seems like the wrong place for an operation of this size. Shoot the road is barely driveable now. While the current permit may allow this to occur the scope of this project doesnt fit with use of the area.

I am against this development.
