Comments: I do not approve of expanding the Holland lake lodge. This would add several hundreds of people per day in terms of traffic. This could also encourage other other corporations to come to the swan valley to develop land. POWDR is one of the largest ski resort operators in North America along with Aspen and Vail. The family who owns the corporation is out of Utah and not Montana. They are not local nor do I think they have the best interest for the locals and local wildlife preservation. Montana is one of the few places left where land has been preserved on a vast level and I personally would like to see this continue. I do not approve of the expansion and "facility improvement" for Holland Lake.
