Comments: I am opposed to the development of the Seeley Lake Lodge. That site has been a part of my Montana heritage, since it has been here longer than I have. It should be designated a historical site. But, more over, it's rustic and feels like a visitor could leave the 21st century behind for a while, when visiting. Another groups of rich people from out of state, taking away the things that we, who were here first, have grown to love and respect.
