Comments: My family has owned property at Lindbergh Lake for over 70 years, and this part of Montana has always represented a haven of quiet retreat. I am concerned about development happening in these pristine areas, like Holland Lake. It would be tragic to see Holland Lake become a hotspot, high-traffic vacation location for out-of-staters. The low-key historic nature of the lodge and cabins is iconic, and a truly "Montana" experience. Please require a careful and thorough environmental impact study prior to issuing permits for any big development that changes the nature of this beautiful property. Thank you for your consideration.
