Comments: Holland Lake has been a treasured place for my family for many years. We lived in Montana for 35 years and visited Holland Lake frequently, stayed at the Lodge, ate at the restaurant and hiked the trails. It has always been at a reasonable cost and not overcrowded. Building the buildings planned will be detrimental to the look and feel of the location. It will add to the crowds, the noise and no doubt raise the cost of the lodging and food to an unreasonable level for Montanans. Having an influx of others that the resort company caters to will likely increase the garbage in the scenery and add to the pollution of the wonderful Lake.

I am totally against the sale to resort owner that would likely not be beneficial to Montanans.
