Comments: My family has been going to the Holland lake campground since the middle of the 1960's. We used to go with the hopes of getting our favorite campsite. The campground and lake are now so popular, getting a campsite, even with a reservation, is difficult. Boat traffic on the lake, including paddleboards, kayaks and canoes is quite congested right now, and the plan to expand Holland Lake Lodge to this extent would be a major change to any environmental impact statement of the area.

The thought of tripling the footprint of the Holland Lake Lodge complex is totally unreasonable. I don't have a problem with upgrades and improvements, but the enormous proposed expansion will totally destroy what Holland Lake is to so many people.
