Comments: It took us a couple of years to find Holland Lake after we moved here in the 1960s. After that there were regular visits mostly tenting but always stopping by the Lodge. Our heaviest use was in the 1990s as our two boys were growing up.

It's good to know the property is being cared for, and no doubt improvements are necessary. What concerns me is scale.

The Lodge and outbuildings just fit on the point of land where they were built. It's as if they belong there. Statements in the news indicate that more will be added than removed. Please be careful. It would be easy to mess it all up.
