Comments: Having watched the development of Big Sky over the past 25 years, I urge the Forest Service to take the appropriate time needed in order to conduct a full environmental impact study before moving ahead with this proposed development.

Important values (i.e. wildlife habitat, noise and light pollution, air and water quality, recreation, affordable access for residents, historic preservation) will be impacted.

Will Holland Lake be forever changed for the sake of corporate profit? Montana seems to be heading in this direction, sadly.
