Comments: The proposed project for Holland Lake would not be beneficial to Montanans. Some company from Utah would be putting in a resort for tourists, not for people who reside in the state. How does that benefit the state at all? and Honestly we have TONS of tourism in this state and prices for Montanans to visit places in their own states have sky rocketed.

Plus I do not think that the Swan Lake area could handle the influx of people and traffic. That area doesn't have the infrastructure to deal with more cars and tons of construction around the lake. The swan lake area is so peaceful and serene, we do not need a huge resort full of people who don't respect the land.
