Comments: I understand the desire to expand development on that beautiful lake. However, some things in this wonderful state don't need development. If anything they need less. For people traveling here to experience this lake is possible already. And instead of having plush rooms and expensive breakfasts. Why not promote a real Montana lake experience. One that puts you in touch with the serenity of a clear blue mountain lake....give them a Rocky Mountain High. Not a Rocky Mountain goodbye experience. Please don't further develop that wonderful property.
