Comments: Hello,

I worry how this expansion will affect the wildlife and low income Montanans. So much of our state is turning into a playground for the rich, while shutting out native Montanans and at the cost of our precious natural environment. Climate change will continue to impact our state and stress our ecosystem, and the pressure caused by such an increase in traffic alone will compound their troubles.

I implore the USFS to do a very thorough assessment to understand the full impact such a historic move would make and leverage those findings to the betterment of all people and creatures living in Montana, not just the wealthy and connected.

Thank you,
Adam Ward
