Comments: We have already seen the pollution and devastation of nature as well as housing shortages and service shortages that has happened in areas such as Big Sky, Glacier, Yellowstone. If the state continues to allow these types of "updates," what will we be left with? Just places for tourists to demolish and then be on their way, leaving Montanans to mourn the loss of what we've stayed here all of our lives for and worked so hard to preserve. Not everything needs to be "glamourized" just to appease those that are not connected by heart and soul to this place we call home.
