Comments: Holland Lake and surrounding area is all that is good and special about Montana's Swan Valley. I've stayed at the lodge, paddled the lake, hiked trails above the lake, all of which offered pristine, non-commercial outdoor recreation experiences. Allowing an outside corporation to take over and disrupt this natural setting would be a gross violation of the Flathead Forest's stewardship responsibilities. The impact on wildlife, especially seasonal migration patterns, and on other natural features from a large-scale commercial recreation project would benefit the corporation and its investors. It would be a loss for Montanans who use and revere this area.
