

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 10/22/2022 10:57:16 PM

First name: Valerie

Last name: Harms

Organization:

Title:

Comments: It is shocking that the Forest Service would back a logging plan to cover 40,000 acres and 56.8 miles of temporary roads constructed during the 15-year term. The area lies in the connection corridor for grizzly bears, moose, elk, wolves, wolverine and the smaller animals such as pine Martens. The plan is a disastrous example of habitat fragmentation and has no mention of carbon sequestration or climate change. It's horrible that this plan is for an area adjacent to YP. I am also troubled by the loss of water quality due to increased sedimentation. This plan is a failure of environmental assessment.