Comments: NO, NO, NO, NO TO SPLAT! It doesn't even mention the YNP bison, and why the hell would logging and mining even be considered on public lands in a sensitive environment? The national parks themselves were created to protect and conserve the ecosystems and all the wildlife in those ecosystems, and the NPS' ONLY mandate is to act as stewards of those lands. So the only reason mining, logging, drilling or anything else environmentally detrimental is only because BLM and other governmental agencies are whoring themselves out to special interest groups for THOSE group's profits -- not the government's. Not the American taxpayers, whose tax dollars fund the Department of the Interior and all of NPS. These are OUR bison, OUR cultural patrimony. And none of those agencies have MY permission to despoil the environment and negatively impact the wildlife within that patrimony. I do NOT pay taxes so individual corporations can profit, and the powers that be should stop pandering to them.
