Comments: How could this be happening? Instead of putting in new roads how about taking out the roads and contributing to promoting the herds and wildlife and increasing the park size and helping wildlife to flourish instead of logging - really - aren't there other places where controlled growth and replanting and processing of the trees can be done? For every tree taken there should be at least 3 started... What is going on with conservation? What about our kids? When can there be responsibility taken for promoting growth instead of killing and stripping the forests of all wildlife and for what? Yellowstone is a National Treasure - why turn it into a death zone? Please, let's go forward instead of backwards - promote wildlife - promote parks instead of logging.
