Comments: The plight of the bison (and other wildlife) in and around Yellowstone is very troubling. At the bare minimum why is there no required environmental impact study done. The harm done to wildlife as well as the vistas will be damaging to generations to come. There is so little protection as it is. Habitat destruction is the primary negative impact humans have. The conditions they live under now with traffic and intrusion have already ruined it for many. I reside by a National Park so I have some experience with these issues. Please pause and at least get the study done for all to review.

Thank you.
