Comments: I am Against the Stibnite Open Pit Mine. It will damage the area, cause stress to the fish, disrupt rivers, and add poisons into the ground and water. The wildness area and the sacred grounds will end up being infringed upon. The wildlife will be even more disrupted than it is now, causing even more human/wildlife problems. They claim that in 20+ years they will have it cleaned and back to "normal". I don't believe that for a second. I have seen things similar in the mining industry, and most areas are still recovering 100+ (one hundred plus) years later. I read there are already 2 smaller mines there, we don't need another one.

It is our National Forest's Please don't let any more damage be done to it.
